NAZI HORDES APPROACH BORDER OF STALINGRAD PROVINCE

Soviets Continue Fighting Retreat In Rostov District

BY EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, July 22—(AP)—Stalingrad and Rostov both were imperiled gravely by fresh German advances today as the million men of Nazi Marshal Fedor Von Bock pressed relentlessly south and east against bitterly fighting but outnumbered Russian forces.

Red Star, the army newspaper, said ominously that the Germans were approaching the border of Stalingrad province.

A furious German assault beat against the men of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko along the Moscow-Rostov railway. The drive was moving on Rostov from southeast of Millerovo and from Voroshilovgrad, both of which have fallen to the Germans in the 300-mile wide Don basin offensive.

Ruhr Valley Targets Are Blasted Again

Aerial Offensive Cuts With Destructive, Fiery Force at Duisburg

ON OTHER WAR FRONT

By the Associated Press
The aerial offensive with which the British are whipsawing at German power in western Europe, disconcerting the foe in advance of any more foreboding second front action, cut with destructive, fiery force last night at Duisburg and other Ruhr valley targets.

The raids in the Duisburg area at the confluence of the Ruhr and Rhine rivers, part of Germany's great western industrial belt, were the work of 300 planes.

British air power in Africa, already bolstered by U. S. forces, also fell furiously upon Axis positions and equipment on and around the El Alamein front where a concentration of more than 1,000 Axis vehicles was bombed. Ground fighting in the battle of Egypt had reverted to artillery duelling.

The Chinese have recaptured Kienteh, 65 miles southwest of Hangchow, main Japanese base in Chekiang province, after a five-day battle which ended Sunday.

The bulletin said fighting was continuing around the Chekiang coast port of Wenchow from which the Chinese are trying to drive the invaders for a second time.

The Chinese said yesterday that they were gaining an upper hand in the fight and had cut the Japanese lines of communications around the port.

BULLETINS

War Analyst Sees No Real Disaster In Fall of Rostov

BY DE WITT MACKENZIE

The Nazi menace to Rostov-on-Don naturally increases the danger to Soviet Marshal Timoshenko's general defensive strategy, but the capture of the city would not in itself represent a disaster.

Rostov is situated on the right, or northern, bank of the great river Don. The line on which Timoshenko presumably will make a stand ultimately if the German advance continues will be along the left or southern bank.

Now the Don presents a formidable barrier to any advancing army, especially at its mighty mouth near Rostov. Therefore we needn't put the Hitlerites across it until they at least come to it. Should the invaders finally force a crossing they would have Timoshenko's left flank in a precarious position. A more immediate threat is the possibility that the Nazis may try to invade the Caucasus from the Crimea, across the Kerch Strait, and thus attack the Russian positions on the Don from the rear. However, the Red defense on the strait presumably are strong.

The Moscowites admit that they are outnumbered on their southern front, and I have been asked how this can be true in view of Russia's vast reservoir of manpower. The answer is that under conditions existing in this theatre an attacking commander, on either side, generally can concentrate numerically superior forces, on any restricted front, although his enemy has vast reserves. The attacker who is operating on an interior line, as is General Von Bock, has the advantage over his opponent, who must spread his defenses.

Oil—the lifeblood of mechanized war—would be denied to large sections of Russia except that which has been stored.

The fall of both cities would isolate many other southern centers from aid in the north, so vital to carry on Russia's resistance. (Turn to Page Nine)

U. S. CASUALTIES IN WAR FIXED AT 44,143

Washington, July 22—(AP)—United States forces have suffered 44,143 casualties since the war began—4,801 dead, 5,218 wounded and 34,124 missing.

An Office of War Information statement last night said that 20,000 of the missing were at Bataan and Corregidor and in Java, they are believed to be prisoners of war. No definite report as to their status has been received from the international Red Cross.

Albany, N. Y., July 22—(AP)—A test of political power between President Roosevelt and James A. Farley, his onetime aide, was indicated today as U. S. Senator James M. Mead announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York.

Farley, state Democratic chairman and former national chairman, is backing Attorney General John J. Bennett, whose campaign managers claim the support of more than half the 1,014 delegates who will gather at the state Democratic convention next month.

Mead's formal statement, released in his Washington office, said he had hoped he "might not be called upon to run."

While the president repeatedly has refused to express any public preference among several possible Democratic nominees for the office he held two terms, friends of Mead frequently have claimed, without contradiction from the White House, that he possessed Roosevelt's approval.

Weekly Tests of Air Raid Alarms Ordered

Harrisburg, July 22—(AP)—The State Defense Council today directed weekly tests of air raid alarms at 12:05 p. m. Eastern War Time, each Saturday until further notice.

The U. S. Citizens Defense Corps shall not be mobilized by these test alarms and no attention need be paid to them by the general public, the council declared. They are held to test the mechanical readiness and effectiveness and acquaint the public with the signal.

The alarms should not be more than 20 seconds in duration and in no case should be followed by "an all-clear" signal, the order said.

CIO To Seek Wage Boosts For Steel Men

Increases Awarded by WLB Would Add $120 Yearly to Each Worker

400,000 ARE INVOLVED

Pittsburgh, July 22—(AP)—The CIO United Steel Workers set out today to win for 400,000 employees of eight steel companies the 44-cent a day wage increase which the War Labor Board awarded to 157,000 employees of the four "Little Steel" companies.

The increase would add approximately $120 a year to each man's pay, or about $48,000,000 annually for the 400,000 employees of the U. S. Steel Corporation, the nation's biggest steel producer; Jones and Laughlin, Pittsburgh Steel, Sharon, Great Lakes and Hanna Furnace subsidiaries of the National Steel Corp., Crucible, Wheeling Steel and Allegheny Ludlum.

In addition, the CIO wants from the eight firms approximately $22,000,000 in backpay because the WLB in its "Little Steel" decision made the wage increase retroactive to February 6.

Eventually, CIO President Philip Murray has announced, the same increase will be sought for 225,000 additional workers in steel producing and fabricating plants in which the union is the bargaining agent.

The union's 200-man policy committee from plants of the eight firms is backing Attorney General John J. Bennett, whose campaign managers claim the support of more than half the 1,014 delegates who will gather at the state Democratic convention next month.

Pennsylvanians Prepared For Practice Blackout Tonight

Citizens Now Have Better Understanding of Test, Director Declares

CHAIRMEN ARE ADVISED

Harrisburg, July 22—(AP)—Pennsylvanians now have a "better understanding" of what is expected of them in blackouts, Dr. A. C. Marts, director of the State Defense Council, said today as final instructions went out for tonight's first state-wide rehearsal against possible air raids.

"Indications are that there is a better understanding through the state than there was before the test last month," Dr. Marts declared. "There was an avalanche of phone calls then from people asking special consideration but the calls have been much fewer lately."

Scaled instructions were sent to county chairmen, notifying them of the time to sound the air raid alarms signaling the start of the 30-minute total blackout.

All Pennsylvania except the flood-damaged counties of Elk, Cameron, Potter and McKean will participate with special emphasis placed on staging such imaginary incidents as the landing of enemy planes and parachutists, fires and injuries to civilians.

Dr. Marts said the rehearsal was planned as the first in a stepped-up schedule. Another test in co-operation with New Jersey will be held next month.

During the blackout, pedestrians must take shelter and vehicles pull to curbs with lights out. Only emergency crews and defense workers may move about the darkened streets.

Harrisburg, July 22—(AP)—Attorney General Claude T. Reno today declared himself "personally sympathetic" to Pennsylvania's new uniform parole law and said that if a decision holding it unconstitutional was appealed he would argue the case before the supreme court.

He assured continued operation of the parole board pending a test of a Delaware county court ruling that all its acts and decrees null and void.

The 1941 legislature authorized formation of a five-member board to handle all paroles except capital cases and prisoners sentenced to less than two years in jail.

Operating since June 1, the board has acted on approximately 800 parole applications but Executive Director Thomas T. Taylor said he had no figures available on the number of persons released.

Declaring the law invalid yesterday, Judge Albert Dutton MacDade said it was defective in that it gave exclusive power for granting paroles to the board while making no reference to the governor's power of pardon as set forth in the state constitution.

Senator James J. Davis (R-Pa.) plans a personal study of flood control needs on the Lackawanna river to determine whether a dam could be built to eliminate the threat of floods such as those that caused widespread damage last spring.

The senator said he favored a dam similar to the Pymatuning dam on the western Pennsylvania border which has protected the Sharon area.

STAFF CHIEF IS APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT

Bluff, Outspoken Admiral Leahy Becomes Adviser as Crisis Is Reported in Alliea Shipping

STARTS IMMEDIATELY

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 22—(AP)—Bluff, outspoken Admiral William D. Leahy became President Roosevelt's chief of staff today amid disclosures of a grave crisis in the shipping situation and of sharpening warfare off Alaska.

There was immediate speculation that the president would create a supreme army-navy general staff about the granite-faced sailor and diplomat who listens long and talks short and who represented at Vichy America's friendship for a broken France.

Mr. Roosevelt announced Leahy's appointment late yesterday and said the admiral would assume his duties immediately.

Confronting the chief of staff as he took office was a report by the War Shipping Administration that shipping losses during the week of July 12 were the highest since the war began and that sinkings of United Nations vessels have greatly exceeded new construction.

The navy, meanwhile, had announced the sinking of three more Japanese destroyers by United States submarines in the vicinity of the Aleutian Island of Kiska. This brought Japan's losses in the Aleutian area to six destroyers, one transport and one cruiser; one destroyer probably sunk; and four cruisers, two destroyers, one aircraft carrier, one gunboat and one transport damaged.

These 18 ships sunk and damaged went to pay for Japanese occupation of three islands—Kiska, Attu and Agattu—all at the western extreme of the Aleutian chain.

Shipping losses, the Alaskan battle and all military aspects of the war would come under a summary.

Mr. Roosevelt had an opportunity also to discuss with his callers the sharpening warfare in the Aleutian Islands so near to Siberia.

In the bitter Russian fighting, Stalingrad and Rostov both were imperiled by fresh German advances and it appeared likely that Litvinoff had high on his list the urgency of creating the second European front for which he has repeatedly called.

Mr. Roosevelt, in deciding strategy matters in any of the pressing situations, can turn for advice to Admiral William D. Leahy, whose appointment as chief of staff to him he announced yesterday.

The navy-endorsed bill, wrapping up authorized expenditures of $975,634,000, won swift approval from the house naval committee yesterday after its members, in executive session, heard officials explain the need for hasty passage.

Biggest single allotment in the measure called for expenditure of $299,450,000 for aviation facilities, followed closely by one of $315,000,000 for "miscellaneous structures and advance bases."

For reasons of military secrecy committee members declined to say whether the authorization would go for new outposts or toward strengthening such strategic spots as Midway Island and northern bases on the continent.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 22—(AP)—Roy F. Henderson, national agricultural marketing administrator, said today it would be "a patriotic duty to eat chicken this summer" in view of a poultry surplus resulting from the stepped-up production of eggs for export to the United Nations.

His statement was contained in a message to the International Baby Chick Association's convention here, read for him in his absence by W. D. Termohlen, chief of the marketing administration's poultry division.

War-time sinkings of Allied and neutral merchantmen in the western Atlantic neared the 400-mark today, grimly accentuated by disclosure that losses "have greatly exceeded new construction."

Washington, July 22—(AP)—Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) disclosed today that President Roosevelt discussed with congressional leaders today "the whole question of the cost of living," but has not decided whether he will send a special message to congress concerning means of preventing inflation.

Although Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday he hoped to send a message to congress on the cost of living question, Barkley said, "it is not absolutely certain that the president will communicate with congress about this."

"We discussed," the senator continued, "the whole question of the cost of living, including the present powers and any powers the president may need."

Asked whether wage control was debated, Barkley replied, "we discussed the whole set up, everything that goes into the cost of living."

Bill Authorizing Expenditures of $975,634,000 Wins Approval

HASTY PASSAGE URGED

Washington, July 22—(AP)—Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff and members of the Pacific War Council came to the White House today for separate conferences as grave developments appeared on the Russian front and in the shipping situation.

President Roosevelt had an opportunity also to discuss with his callers the sharpening warfare in the Aleutian Islands so near to Siberia.

In the bitter Russian fighting, Stalingrad and Rostov both were imperiled by fresh German advances and it appeared likely that Litvinoff had high on his list the urgency of creating the second European front for which he has repeatedly called.

HELP SOUGHT BY TOWNS IN FLOOD AREAS

Death Toll Reaches Fourteen as Appeal Is Broadcast for Assistance to Repair Damages

VOLUNTEERS ARE BUSY

BY WILLIAM RIESEL

Ridgway, July 22—(AP)—The death toll of last week-end's flash floods in northern Pennsylvania and southern New York state reached 14 today as flood-stricken communities appealed for aid in reconstructing damaged streets, homes and business buildings.

The latest fatality reported was Handley Paige, 34, of Falconer, N. Y., near Olean. Coroner Samuel T. Bowers reported Paige drowned when his gravel truck broke through a section of flood-weakened road and toppled into six feet of water.

Borough officials of hard-hit Port Allegany called upon the U. S. employment service in Bradford to supply 400 to 500 workmen to help clean up debris, repair damaged streets and raze wrecked buildings.

In connection with the announcement that laborers are needed at Port Allegany to repair flood damage, it was stated today by David Levine, manager of the U. S. Employment Service here, that local persons interested in obtaining work may apply at the local office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west. The office will be open between six and seven o'clock this evening to receive applications. It was stated that the rate of pay is 60 cents per hour and meals. Workers must obtain their own lodging.

In answer to other appeals, hundreds of volunteers from nearby towns joined residents of the stricken communities in the clean-up job.

No official tabulation of damage in the four badly hit Pennsylvania counties—Potter, Cameron, McKean and Elk—was made but officials said it would "run into the millions."

Damage at Port Allegany is simply tremendous," said L. H. Lukehart, national Red Cross field representative. "We are attempting to rehabilitate the 350 families which are homeless and it is a terrific task. But we are getting magnificent assistance from the hundreds of volunteers who have so willingly offered us their help." (Turn to Page Nine)

Bern, Switzerland, July 22—(AP)—Countries under Axis domination are taking measures designed to force Jews to increased labor in behalf of the German war effort.

Police of Salonika have registered more than 6,000 Jews between the ages of 18 and 45 for compulsory labor.

About 80,000 Jews of Warsaw, all skilled workers in their own ghetto workshops, have been assigned to tasks by Germans through a special liaison office.

The newspaper Der Neue Tag of Prague reported that German administrators see to it that "Jews with labor for foodstuffs delivered to the ghetto." Similar regulations were reported through Poland.

The Bulgarian government announced establishment of a ghetto in Sofia.

Rumania added another to its many decrees regulating the lives of Jews. A new order stipulated that all property of Jews except synagogues and cemeteries may be "transferred" to other owners.

WARREN COUNTY WAR CHEST

Goal $20,000

Contributions to Date $7,577.00

Only 9 Days Left to Reach Our Goal

Regulations For Tonight's Dimout In Warren Borough

Officials of the Warren County Defense Council have announced the following instructions for the half-hour total blackout tonight:

Blackout will be announced by air raid warning signals at United Refinery, Warren Bank and Trust building and by train whistles short blasts for a period of two minutes.

No pedestrians will be permitted on streets, except Civilian Defense workers, who must wear the proper arm bands.

No motor vehicles may operate. Motorists in cars when blackout begins must drive vehicles to side of street or highway, extinguish lights. Persons may remain quietly in cars during the half hour but no smoking shall be permitted.

All buildings, stores, theatres, homes must be totally dark as seen from outside.

All street lights must be off. Factories and railroads permitted necessary lights when so ordered by Army and Navy Departments. Otherwise must blackout completely as seen from outside. Please do not use telephones during the blackout or for some time following unless on Civilian Defense business.

At end of the half hour, the "all clear" signal will be sounded by the same means as the "alert"—two minutes continuous blast.</

Youths Have Close One As Canoe Upsets

Two Bradford youths, former Warren residents, had a narrow escape from drowning in the swollen waters of the Allegheny river yesterday when a canoe in which they were riding overturned near the Boy Scout camp at Cornplanter.

The mishap occurred about 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon while Robert Jewell, 23, a Warren High School teacher, and his brother James, 18, both of 37 Cole avenue, Bradford, were paddling their canoe near the Scout camp, where both are staying.

After the canoe overturned, both men managed to cling to the craft as it floated downstream and finally struck an island about a mile from where the boat overturned. They then dragged the boat onto the beach, righted it and then made shore.

In the meantime a resident in the vicinity of Gonwango saw the youths in the water. Unable to reach a telephone, she told a passing motorist, who in turn drove to Kinzua, where he notified Lynn Shipman at the latter's store. Mr. Shipman notified the state motor police here and also called various camps along the river to have watchers on the lookout for the boys.

State motor police notified local police and the radio car from here was dispatched to the scene, driven by Patrolman Mike Egan, who was accompanied by Fire Chief Douglas G. Kropf. The lifeboats at the Central Fire Station were made ready to take to the scene if necessary.

The call did not reach here until 3:15 and by the time the local officers arrived at the scene of the mishap, the young men already were safely ashore, none the worse for their thrilling experience.

Official Of Red Cross At Special Meet

Mrs. Lewis C. Jamieson, local official for the Warren county Red Cross, has recently returned from Pittsburgh, where she attended a concentrated series of lectures and special courses to further fit her for her active duties here. The supervised courses, lasting for three days, had as their subject matter, the new surgical dressings which are being made now at the Market street headquarters. The lectures were presented by representatives from all branches of the Red Cross and were highly informative and helpful.

Present for the Pittsburgh course was Mrs. DeSef, of Washington, D. C., whose name is well known in Red Cross circles. Mrs. DeSef, a volunteer worker for the past 7 years, hopes to be in Warren sometime in October. Warren's Red Cross officials are working harder than ever to maintain the new quota for surgical dressings. A new group is to be organized Thursday evening at the State Hospital in North Warren, with the doctors and their wives eager to do their part in the all-out effort.

Workers are urged to enlist now for surgical dressing groups who are now busily engaged in this important phase of war work.

Every time a ton of scrap iron or steel is used, more than four tons of iron ore, coal, limestone and other natural resources are saved.

Penn Premier Shows Offering Outstanding Attraction Here

There was a large crowd on hand last night at the Penn Premier Shows, appearing all this week at the brewery show grounds on the South Side. From all indications, everyone appeared to be enjoying the various features which are presented nightly.

Outstanding attraction of the carnival is the Great Wilno, the Human Cannonball, who permits himself to be shot from a cannon. He leaves the cannon with tremendous force, traveling through the air for a distance of 375 feet over the top of the large ferris wheel landing in a net.

Wilno's exhibition, which is the free act of the carnival, was greeted with great enthusiasm by the crowd last night and many indicated their intention to return to see the performance again.

The entire carnival offers clean, high class entertainment and is one of the finest ever to appear here. A special children's matinee will be given Saturday afternoon from one to five o'clock. All rides and shows will be five cents for the kiddies.

Tonight is Army and Navy Night at the Penn Premier Shows, with ten percent of the entire gross receipts from the show going to the relief funds of the two services.

The manager of the carnival, Lloyd D. Serfass, of Stroudsburg, Pa., today issued an invitation to local organizations to bring to the show tonight any unfortunate children who are not able to get there themselves. If it is not possible to take these kiddies to the show tonight, they may be taken on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Serfass will take personal charge of their entertainment.

Corry Woman Badly Burned In Explosion

Corry, July 22—Mrs. Martin Wise, 34, of Corry, township, near here, is in the Corry Hospital with serious burns sustained shortly before noon yesterday when an explosion occurred as she was building a fire in a wood cook stove in preparation for getting the noon meal. Her condition was described as very critical today.

It is believed that Mrs. Wise may have been using kerosene to start the fire. Her husband, who was in the cellar, heard the explosion and went to the kitchen, where he found his wife enveloped in flames and the entire room afire.

In attempting to rescue his wife, Mr. Wise received minor burns, as did his father, Axel Sampson. Neither is serious, however.

The home and its contents were destroyed by fire which followed the explosion.

The Wises have four children, ranging in age from 6 to 17 years.

Reports Incidents During High Water Over Past Week-end

Mrs. Ray Thomas, of Emporium, who is the former Jean Schweitzer of Warren and only recently a bride, is authority for some interesting first hand information concerning flood conditions in and about that place.

Mrs. Thomas has arrived for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Schweitzer, of Hemlock, and reports that her home was located just above the high water line and escaped damage.

Just across the road from her home she saw a house leave its foundations and float downstream and a school bus was seen to roll over and over in the flood waters.

Mrs. Schweitzer's sister, Mrs. Thomas Gannoe, was removed through four feet of water from her home in the Sizerville valley, about five miles from Emporium. Damage in this particular area was said to be very heavy, two persons having been drowned and four others reported missing.

The visitor states that roads are now passable between St. Marys, Ridgway and Kane but that food supplies for that entire area ran very low before travel could be resumed. A dike which broke did considerable damage and flooded the Sylvan Corporation plant at Emporium, the property of B. H. Erskine, brother-in-law of T. Richard Evans, of Warren.

Mrs. Schweitzer, mother of Mrs. Thomas, reports, also, that high water at Hemlock completely covered the beautiful dahlia gardens and that many of the plants will undoubtedly be lost. No serious damage to property has been reported in that section, however, and waters have receded.

"Chow" stems from "chowder," which in turn comes from the French "chaudiere," meaning "kettle or pot."

Deadline Is Announced By Reserve Bank

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reminds those firms and individuals extending credit in connection with the sale of durable and semi-durable goods brought within the scope of Regulation W by the May 6 amendment that the general license granted to them expires on Friday, July 31. On or before that date those not already registered are required to file a registration statement, form F. R. 563-a, with the Consumer Credit Department of the above mentioned bank or with its Cincinnati or Pittsburgh branch. Forms and information may be secured from these offices.

Exceptions to this rule are firms which extend only charge account credit as distinguished from installment credit, and lending institutions which make only single-payment loans. The expiration date of the general license under which they are operating at present will be announced later although immediate registration is encouraged.

The new class of registrants includes sellers of automobile batteries and accessories; tires and tubes; bedding; draperies; binoculars; household electric appliances not hitherto listed; used furniture; jewelry; glassware; yard goods; non-military clothing and furs, including shoes, hats and other haberdashery, and certain other items.

Local Store Manager Asks Tire Saving

"It does little good to send our sons to war, or buy bonds and pay taxes to finance the war effort if we waste rubber, America's most critical war material," says L. C. Stickle, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, in commending on the supply of rubber and the ways motorists can cooperate in the conservation of rubber.

"The enemy now controls over 90 percent of the world's rubber growing area. Regardless of conflicting statements that have appeared frequently, the facts prove that all of the crude rubber, reclaimed rubber and guayule now on hand or in sight will not be sufficient for the war needs of ourselves and our allies during the next two years unless the tires and tubes now in use on the nation's 'non-essential' as well as 'essential' motor vehicles are conserved.

"No fifth columnists, no subversive group, no armed force the enemy could land on our shores is capable of harming our war effort as much as car owners who blindly refuse to believe there is a rubber shortage.

"All of us must cut out high speeds. Don't speed around curves. Inflate tires weekly to recommended or rated air pressures. Don't make 'jack rabbit' starts or quick stops.

"Brakes should be checked frequently and necessary adjustments made before flat spots on the tread surface of the tire indicate the need for brake adjustment.

"Avoid striking curbs, road holes and rocks. Check wheel alignment twice a year, or after any accident that could affect alignment.

"Fix cuts, leaks and breaks promptly; delay may cause damage that can't be repaired. Change wheel positions every 5,000 miles.

"Let's all get serious about rubber conservation and practice as well as preach it. It is the vital duty of every car-owner to get maximum mileage from his tires. It is the vital duty of every tire merchant to provide every possible service toward tire conservation. Remember, every ounce of wasted rubber is a gift to the Axis."

AROUND NEW YORK

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here's a note on one of the shortest and richest streets in New York. It cuts through leased ground. It is fronted by banks, publishers, cash register companies, and representatives of foreign governments.

The name of this street is Rockefeller Plaza. Its numbers run from 9 to 50. It begins at 49th street and ends at 51st street, and it lies between Fifth and Sixth Avenue.

The Associated Press building is on Rockefeller Plaza. So is the RCA bldg. So is the Time & Life Bldg. And the International Bldg. Also Eastern Airlines.

FROM high on the tenth floor of No. 10 Rockefeller Plaza emanate the theatrical enterprises of Noel Coward, whose partner and representative, John C. Wilson, ex-Yaler, has his offices there. Into the Plaza each day comes Lowell Thomas, whose offices are at 50 Rockefeller Plaza. In the space of a few weeks I have seen the former Wallis Warfield, a former Democratic presidential nominee (Al Smith), a Republican ex-President (Hoover), a hundred Hollywood picture names, half a dozen ranking generals, and the representatives of the United Nations walking in the Plaza. It's quite a street. It has an unmistakable air of respectability. It's well-bred. No murder has ever been committed there.

But, the city of New York no more owns Rockefeller Plaza than I do. It belongs to Columbia University. It isn't a city-built thoroughfare. The Rockefellers built it, and the trustees of the university permit its use by pedestrians through sufferance only.

Rockefeller Center is built on leased ground. The lease is for 99 years. When the center was built, a street had to be built so that an adequate communications and traffic system could be set up.

BUT one day each year the Trustees of Columbia University take time out to remind the people of New York that they, and no one else, control the Plaza. White ropes block off traffic. The doors of all buildings on the street are bolted. Guards patrol the precinct, and in the center of each opening is a large sign that states:

"This street is closed to public use on behalf and in the name of the trustees of Columbia University in the City of New York."

Buried in the asphalt at each end of the Plaza is a metal plaque that says: "Property line of the trustees of Columbia University. Crossing is by permission only, which permission is revocable at will."

So long as the university closes off the street from public use for one day out of each year, the street will remain the property of the university.

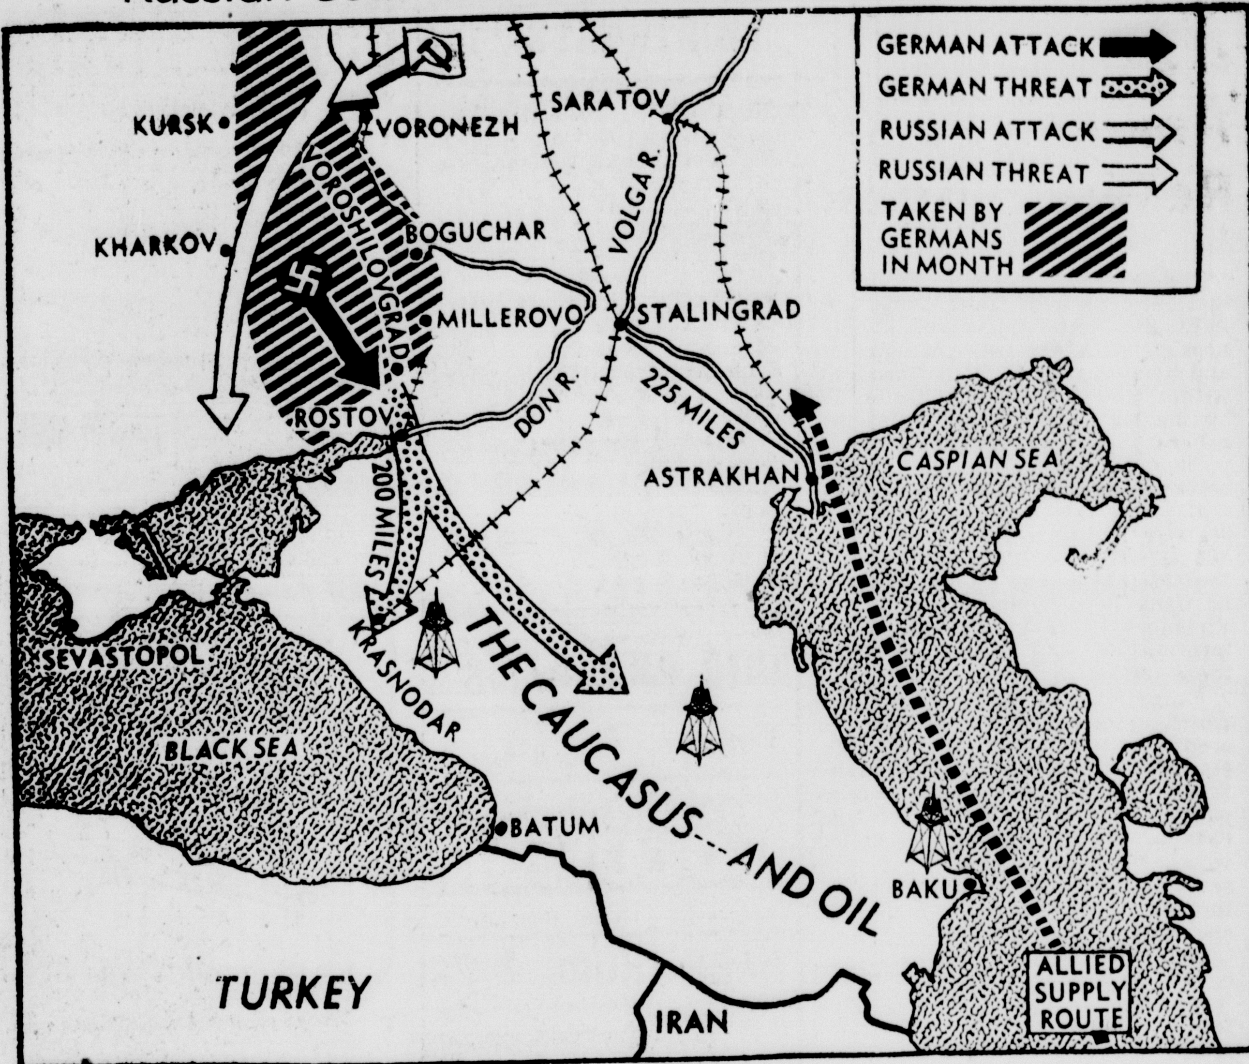

If they neglect to do it, the street automatically becomes city property.

So far, the trustees have been right on the job.

Today's average car has about 145 pounds of rubber, including tires and tubes.

Lander, July 18—Norma Mills, daughter of John Mills, underwent an appendectomy at the Warren Hospital on Saturday. She is reported as doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lyon entertained the Phillips Reunion at their home on Sunday. Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Edson Skinner; vice president, William Lyon, Jr.; secretary and treasurer, Elsie Lyon, and historian, Paul Phillips of Falconer. Next gathering to be at the home of Edson Skinner. They honored the 90th birthday of Alex Lyon of Youngsville, who was present.

Everett Webster and Herbert Webster, after having spent a week at their homes, have gone to Charleston, Virginia, where they have employment with a construction company.

Mrs. Emily Johnson, of Jamestown, is spending this week with her brother, John Mills.

The Sunshine Club held their annual picnic on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Anna Barney. About thirty were present. The president, Mrs. Arlene Reed had charge of the business meeting. Action was taken to use the penny collection for the boys in service. Mrs. Stufflebeam was appointed to represent the club in the Service Club. Mrs. Viola Firth and Mrs. Lucy Lindell presented a program.

Mrs. Amy Campbell, of Greensburg, has been a recent visitor of relatives here.

Rev. and Mrs. Fuller attended the Good Templars National Convention in Jamestown and Chautauque this week. On Friday Rev. Fuller, who is state grand chaplain, was also elected and installed national grand chaplain for the coming year.

The Foster Cemetery Society met with Mrs. Helen Lindell on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Lucy Lindell presided. Mrs. Florence Mahan was elected secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be with Miss Josephine Peterson. Mrs. Lindell served lunch assisted by Mrs. Cecil Cowles.

The Miller Hill birthday club met at the home of Mrs. Mildred Thelin in honor of her birthday on Thursday. She was presented with a gift of money. A new member, Mrs. Margaret Hedges was added to the roll.

Mrs. Florence Parker, sons Ronald and Charles, spent last Sunday

Many Factors Induce Men To Enlist For Service In Navy

Calling attention to the large increase in the number of men signing up for service with the U. S. Navy during the past month, Chief Petty Officer Stanley O. Lock, navy recruiting officer in charge of the Jamestown district, said today that the reason for this is because of several contributing factors.

Mr. Lock is in charge of the recruiters who visit Warren each Wednesday at the headquarters, 238 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

The officer went on to say that the modifying of physical requirements to the point that a person who would normally qualify under Selective Service would, in all probability, be found physically qualified for enlistment in the naval service was a big factor. He also said that even though a man has received his orders to report for induction under Selective Service he may still volunteer for the Navy right up to the actual moment of his induction.

Here Mr. Lock remarked, "Those are two important reasons for the big increase in enlistments, but I want to tell you what the men themselves say when they apply for enlistment."

"Many a young man states he wants to learn a trade and with Navy trade training he will have a head start towards a good civilian job after the war. Others desire action, adventure and thrills—the kind Bulkeley got when he and his heroic PT boat took on a Jap fleet singlehanded—the kind that Aviation Machinist's Mate Donald Mason found when he 'sighted sub, sank same.' Others desire travel—to see far flung islands and countries all over the world. Still others state they want quarters that are clean, airy, comfortable, and they also know that the navy is famous for its food—three square meals every day. Many young men plan to make a career in the Navy because they know that their future is assured and after 20 years they can retire and receive a generous pension."

Mr. Lock again called attention to the supply of Navy booklets, "Men Make the Navy," which explain enlistment in the branch of the service and list the various vocations available to Navy men.

Chief Lock released the names of seven more Warren county men who have enlisted in the naval service. These men were enlisted this last week and assigned to a naval training station for the regular course of recruit training. They are: Theodore Roosevelt Thomas, 407 South Main street, Sheffield; David Marion Kibbe, 12 1/2 Prospect street, Warren; Allan Alexander Sampson, 11 Monroe street, Warren; Charles Raymond Anderson, Tidouite; Frank Edward Donaldson, R. D. 2, Tidouite; Lloyd Rexford Price, Jr., R. D. 1, Bear Lake, and Robert Leroy Schumann, R. D. 1, Warren.

Schumann was enlisted as a shipfitter third class and Donaldson as a shipfitter first class for duty in the Navy's construction battalions and are back home on inactive duty. Price was enlisted as a hospital apprentice second class.

In addition, 14 other Warren with Mrs. Marie Reitzel in Buffalo.

Mrs. B. F. Armstrong, wife of B. F. Armstrong county missionary of Sunday School Union, is seriously ill at her home in Cassadaga, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hedges are now occupying their property on Miller Hill. They were formerly of Warren.

Sweden has suspended motor coach transportation on Sundays to conserve tires.

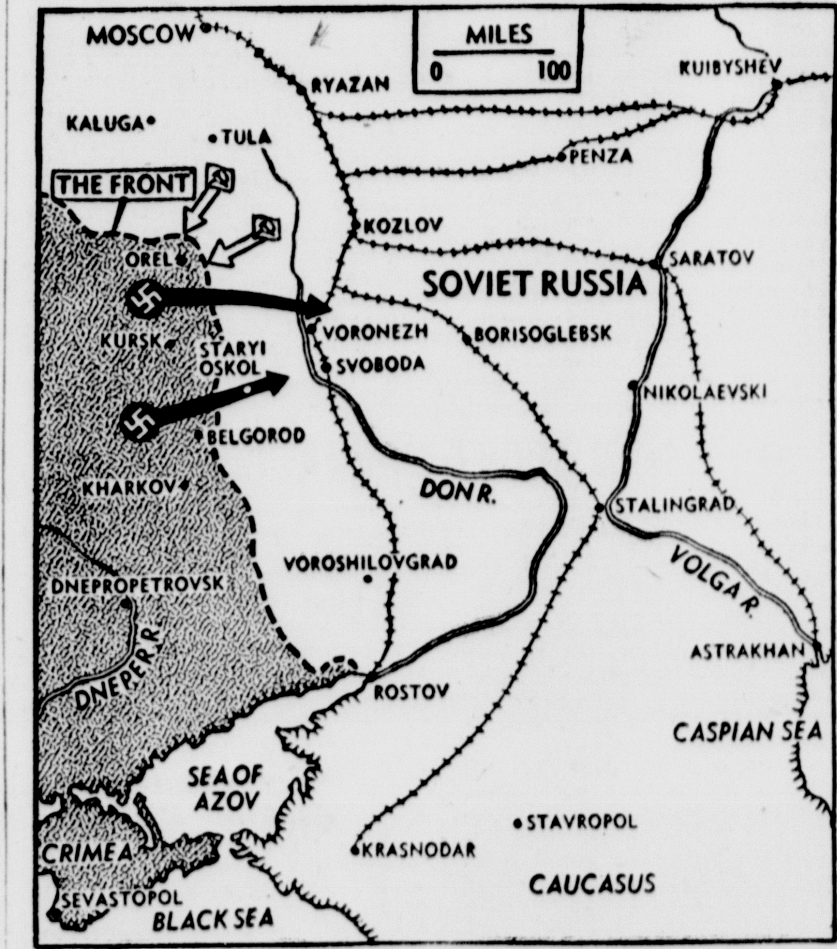

Let us repent of our evil ways, fill our churches, study and obey the Word of God, then we may expect God to hear and help us.

"If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and will heal their land." 2 Chron. 7:14.

SERVICE AWARDS TO 4-H GIRLS

Starting this week, it has been announced, awards in the form of Victory buttons will be presented to 4-H Club girls who in the opinion of their local leaders, have satisfactorily pursued some patriotic service this summer.

The Clearing House Association is financing this project and the buttons will be presented by Mrs. Thelma Prendergast as soon as the girls have earned them.

Many club girls have worked hard on their "service" this summer and well deserve their award. Some of the projects chosen by the girls are: Mowing lawns, milking cows, feeding chickens, doing the family mending, doing the family ironing, caring for children, volunteering to work on sugar rationing boards, salvaging metals, papers, rubber and glass, picking fruit, helping with hay and other farm crops.

"Service for Victory" has been the national 4-H Club slogan this year and the Warren county girls are doing their part to win the war by assisting with these necessary tasks at a time when farm labor is difficult to secure.

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

Appealing to the women of the country to help provide ships and tanks through salvage of needed scrap materials, Donald Nelson, chief of the War Production Board, states in the August issue of Woman's Home Companion that at the present time "we are getting back about one quarter of the rubber we should have."

"Explain the enormity of what this country must do," Mr. Nelson told the editors of the Companion. "We must completely mobilize our resources. Our imagination is hardly large enough to conceive of what we have to do."

"The size and speed of our program are stupendous; not only must we produce at top speed for ourselves, we must supply our allies with what they need."

"Our production is limited only by our raw materials. We must build up supplies of these. Two things are absolutely necessary—steel plate and rubber."

"Metal scrap and old rubber must move back or we cannot make the ships and tanks and equipment to bring victory at the earliest possible moment. We are getting back about one quarter of the rubber we should have. You may think, 'This old tire is worth only sixty cents at the junkman's—I'll keep it—I may need it.' But your part is to turn it back."

"We shall have to give up many things. This is not a sacrifice; it is a burden that we willingly assume, to share in this job."

"We in America are prone to take it for granted that of course we can do anything. But when our people are convinced that privations are necessary and that they are fairly apportioned they can do anything."

PRACTICE BLACKOUT TONIGHT

Every home and business place in the borough and county must be prepared for the practice blackout which will be staged during the night. The exact time, which is secret, will not be known to the public until the sirens, whistles and bells are sounded. Every persons must be alert for this warning. When it comes darken homes and business places and keep them dark until the all clear signal is given, which will be approximately one-half hour later. Air raid wardens and special police will be on duty during the period and violators will not be let off as easily as they were in the June dimout.

Be prepared to do your part to make the practice blackout 100 per cent perfect.

Mainly through the vigilance of officials along with timely warnings on the part of private citizens Warren has thus far escaped any fatalities through the flash flood that visited the section. Numerous incidents of children playing too near the high water have been reported, and on one occasion it was found necessary to have a police officer patrol one of the districts. Youngsters should be warned against venturing too near the river banks until the stream returns to normal level.

There's a lot of scrap metal in iron fences that still surround a number of properties in Warren, including the Y. W. C. A. How about turning it over to Uncle Sam?

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

The tongue is a fire, a world of inquiring; so is the tongue among our members that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell. — James 3:6.

Sitting In On the Second-Front Talks

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The American Automobile Association officials here are in one of their perennial mid-vacation season dithers.

As if life weren't hard enough already for the AAA, they have been swamped with letters recently. The letters are two variations on a single theme: (1) Our neighbors say we are unpatriotic and are slackers because we plan to take a vacation this summer in our car; (2) Our neighbors are traitors on the home front; they are going to take a vacation in their car.

The AAA went into a huddle with the Office of Defense Transportation. They came out with an answer and according to the AAA, an ODT approved ten-point program for vacation travel.

The answer is: "Limited use of the automobile for a vacation is not unpatriotic. PROVIDED other pleasure or social driving is curtailed."

EVEN with talk of automobile confiscation being bandied about all over the capital now, the government recognizes the necessity for vacations; it fully avows the limitations on other forms of transportation; admits that all communities are NOT afflicted alike nor so situated that vacation grounds are within hiking distance.

The No. 1 point is the answer stated above. No. 2 is that aimless and useless driving of any car consumes rubber and gasoline needlessly and must be avoided for the duration.

3—Vacations, in the home, office and factory, should be planned to involve a minimum use of transportation, whether it's by car, train, bus or air. They should be staggered to extend beyond the normal vacation months and staggered to begin and end in mid-week as well as on weekends.

4—No vacationist should start out without a definite objective. "Roaming" is fun, but the old American habit of "we're just going to start out and go on from there" is not only a violation of wartime civilian ethics but is likely to end up an extremely costly business.

5—Don't take the long hops. It's pretty hard to find a city or a state that doesn't have vacation spots nearby and this is the season to do your vacation shopping at home.

6—Make all plans for accommodations in advance. Those who don't will find themselves sleeping in the park, or at least using up good gas and rubber trying to find a landing place.

7—All vacationists traveling by car should check their routes to be sure they don't crash into restricted areas and have to detour. Those traveling by rail, plane or bus should be sure their accommodations are available all the way.

8—If your automobile vacations can't be made to fit into the ODT mileage budget plan (100 miles a month for all forms of personal driving other than going to and from work on war projects), figure out something else. That is, if you can cut that budget in half for three months, then plan a 150-mile vacation hop.

9—Even on vacation, never drive more than 40 miles an hour.

10—Apply the share-your-car plan to vacations for the family, relatives and neighbors.

If you obey those ten commandments of wartime vacationing, you can write back "Having a wonderful time" without any fear that you are unpatriotic or sabotaging the conservation effort.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—William Saroyan hasn't been kidding all these years at all. For awhile I thought his boundless faith in the goodness of human nature was a racket of some sort, but I'm darned if I think so any more. The guy means it. He's on the level.

I mean, if you remember his earlier short stories and plays you'll recall that most of the characters he created may have appeared a little on the bawdy side, but they all had one great thing in common, to wit: People aren't really bad. Even in a desert some grass will grow. All days can't be dark and dreary.

Mr. Saroyan wrote about sad young women in waterfront dives and about barefoot messenger boys who rode their errands with their heads in the skies. They saw the daisy growing on the banks of the gutter but never the gutter itself.

Now he has announced his plans for this autumn. He will produce his own plays, with his own money (Boy! what faith). "No actor in any of my plays is going to be paid more than $50 a week," he says, "but—everybody in the cast will share in the profits—if any. If there aren't any profits, I'll go back to work and earn some more money and pay off my debts."

It was "The Time of Your Life," one of Mr. Saroyan's first big time successes, that earned him the Pulitzer Prize and the Drama Circle Award—something no other play has done.

SAROYAN's last play was a strange, unbelievable piece of make-believe called "The Beautiful People." This came closer to painting a picture—not of a set of characters or a way of life—but of Saroyan himself, for, as Saroyan believes, people are really beautiful and life is beautiful too. It was this drama that sent the critics reeling out into the night, humbling strange names and shouting huzzas or gnashing their teeth. It was this drama that advertised your money back if you didn't like it. A few, not many, made their way to the box office and demanded the refund.

For the first opening of the new cycle of Saroyan plays there will be two—presented on the same evening. They will be "Talking to You," a brief thing in three scenes, and "Across the Board on Tomorrow Morning." They hope to ring up the curtain on Monday, August 17.

One of the wits around town has said in criticism of Saroyan that his people are unreal because they never die—and even if they do die they always go to heaven. If William Saroyan had anything to say about it—they would,

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Life "boats" are replacing life rafts in many instances in our Navy because of their greater safety and less likelihood to splinter or be affected by shell fragments. They are constructed of an elliptical portion of balsa wood, from which is suspended the float proper, carrying from 10 to 25 people.

There are provisions for food and water and some have automatic electric light equipment to aid in night rescue. The Life Boat for 10 people costs about $185.00 each. You can provide this added protection for the boys in our Navy by your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps regularly every pay day. Spend at least 10 percent of your income for War Bonds.

Job instructor training by the Training Within Industry Branch of the WPB Labor Divisions has helped hundreds of war plants to step up production as much as 50 per cent. Under this program, men and experienced craftsmen are taught methods of passing along their "know-how" to new employees.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Eighty-two more Pennsylvania youths have started their army recruit drill at Keesler Field, Miss. The nation's greatest Army Air Forces Technical School, according to word received from there, among them is Natalie A. Scalise, 28 West Fifth avenue, Warren.

Mrs. Ida Kitchen, 1301 Pennsylvania avenue, west, has received word from her grandson, Lloyd Earl Kelly, that he is safe aboard ship at sea. The letter received by Mrs. Kitchen on July 17 was dated June 6.

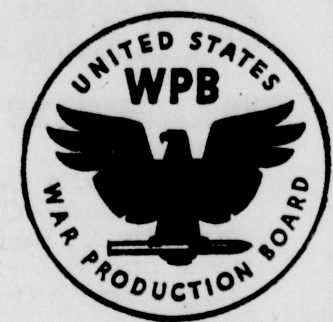

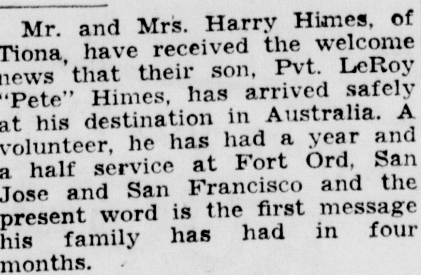

Word has been received here that Anders Helge Werlin, who is here for induction recently, is now stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Md.

Delbert A. Hunter, second class machinist's mate in the United States Coast Guard, Perth Amboy, N. J., has been visiting his father, Pittsfield R. D., and with relatives and friends in North Warren.

Word has been received in Warren that Lieut. Col. Richard R. Dalrymple, of the U. S. Army Medical Corps, will spend a few days in Warren during the early part of August as the guest of his mother, Mrs. E. C. Dalrymple, 10 Water street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Leary, 17 Cedar street, have received a letter from their son, Ralph, who is in foreign service, that he is well and things are going nicely for him; also that he sends greetings to all his Warren friends and would like them to write to him. Mail may be addressed to him in care of A. P. O. 37, San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ristau, Warren R. D. 2, have received word from their son, Harold, that he has had a second promotion and is now rated a ship fitter second class.

CIO To Seek Wage Boosts for Steel Men

companies instructed the USA officers at a conference yesterday to demand new contracts from the firms which would provide the wage boost, a maintenance of the union contract clause and a check-off of dues, all awarded by the WLB in the little steel case. Several other concessions were demanded, including minimum daily guarantee of pay and simplification of grievance machinery.

Everybody Reads the Times-Mirror

A crisis exists in our war production program which can be solved only by the patriotic cooperation of the American people.

We are faced with a serious shortage of steel scrap, rubber and other vital materials.

This shortage must be filled. By "scrap" we mean the ordinary Junk which today is lying in the barnyards and in the gutters of farms; in the basements, attics and garages of homes and stores throughout the country.

The steel industry operates on the basis of half-and-half—about 50 per cent metal from pig iron and 50 per cent remelted scrap metal.

Therefore, about 50 per cent of every tank, every ship, every submarine and every gun is made of scrap iron and steel.

The steel industry has been rapidly stepping up its production—from 67,000,000 tons in 1940 to a record-breaking 83,000,000 tons in 1941. Production in 1942 is already ahead of 1941, but we need to get production up to the industry's full capacity of 90,000,000 tons—a total equal to the output of the rest of the world combined.

This volume of production cannot be attained or increased unless an additional 6,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel is obtained promptly.

We are faced with the fact that some steel furnaces have been allowed to cool down and that many of them are operating from day to day and hand to mouth, due only to the lack of scrap.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber.

We are collecting every possible pound of scrap from the factories, arsenals and shipyards; we are speeding up the flow of material from automobile graveyards; we are tearing up abandoned railroad tracks and bridges, but unless we dig out an additional 6,000,000 tons of steel and great quantities of rubber, copper, brass, zinc and tin, our boys may not get all the fighting weapons they need in time.

Fortunately, the material exists in America's great "mine above the ground."

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

This advertisement paid for by the American Industries Salvage Committee (representing and with funds provided by groups of leading industrial concerns).

There is enough iron and steel on farms alone, if used with other materials, to make:

Twice as many battleships as there are in the whole world today, or Enough 2000-pound bombs to drop three per minute from big bombers incessantly for more than three years.

Locating and collecting this scrap is going to require a canvass of every house and every farm. Even one old shovel will help make 4 hand grenades.

We have set up the machinery for this, but it is not perfect. It is a problem that can be licked only by American resourcefulness, American organization ability, American muscle and American will to win.

We now have in every state a State Salvage Committee of volunteers working directly under the governor.

Under these state committees we have county committees and local committees. We have special industrial committees working with executives of plants in 421 industrial centers.

In rural communities we have the County War Boards. These committees can tell you the quickest way to get your Junk into action.

In behalf of the governor and the state committee we urge every committee to organize itself into a band of "Salvage Commandos."

You can either sell your scrap to a Junk dealer or you can give it to a charity, which in turn will sell it to a Junk dealer who performs an important function by sorting it, grading it, packing it and shipping it to the right place.

We urge local charities and civic organizations to cooperate with the Local Salvage Committee and devise a plan of action and collection.

We urge the scrap dealer to cooperate as fast as he can in the collection and shipment of materials.

We urge industrial executives to appoint Salvage Managers who have both the responsibility and authority to salvage obsolete machinery, tools and dies.

We urge every farmer and every householder in America to act at once.

Go over your premises with a fine tooth comb. If you have already turned in your scrap, look again—you'll probably find more.

If you do not have enough of your own to warrant someone coming after it, form a neighborhood pool, or take it yourself to the nearest collection point.

If there is an old heater or boiler in your basement too heavy for you to move, get your neighbors to help you.

This is a People's job. It is something you can do without interfering with other war work or personal duties.

It is not enough to pile up a little stuff and expect somebody to come and get it. Most of the work is being done by patriotic volunteers with inadequate facilities. They need your help in collecting scrap material in the largest possible amounts and in getting it to the right place.

It is a direct and personal obligation to all of our boys on all fronts.

You may think, "My little bit" won't help, but your "little bit" multiplied thousands and millions of times can create a mountain of raw material which can actually turn the tide.

The situation is serious. Your help is needed now.

HOW SCRAP IRON AND STEEL GO TO WAR

The steel used in our war machines is made by melting together:

1. Pig iron (about 50%)
2. Scrap generated in the steel plant in the process of steelmaking (about 25%)
3. Scrap purchased from outside Junk sources (about 25%)

We have plenty of iron ore to make the pig iron needed. But our furnaces operate faster when there is plenty of scrap to mix with the pig iron.

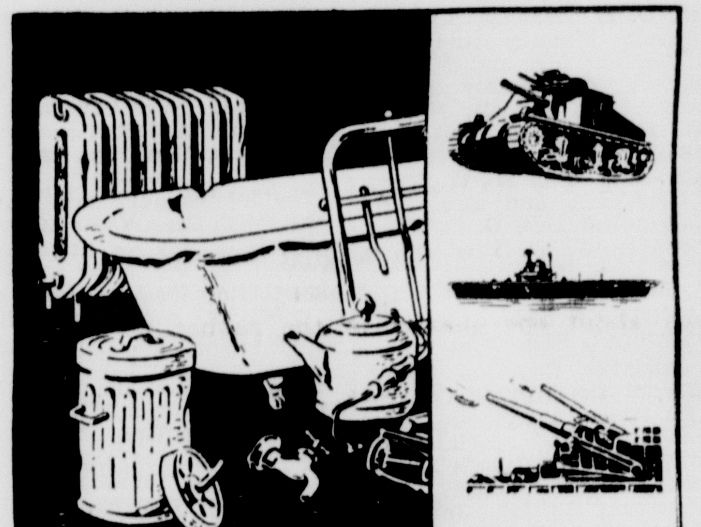

This so-called "scrap" which goes into the furnaces to make the steel for tanks, ships and guns is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed. Some of the finest quality steels are made 100% from scrap.

The iron and steel scrap which you collect is bought by the steel mills from scrap dealers at established government-controlled prices.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

JUNK needed for War

Scrap Iron and Steel

Needed for tanks, ships, guns—all machines and arms of war.

Other Metals—Rubber—Rags—Manila Rope—Burlap Bags

Needed to make bombs, fuses, binoculars, planes, tires for jeeps, gas masks, barrage balloons, parachute flares, sandbags.

HOW TO TURN IT IN

Sell to a Junk dealer . . . Give to a charity . . . Take it yourself to nearest collection point . . . or consult your Local Salvage Committee—

Phone: Warren 3048

If you live on a farm, phone or write your County War Board or consult your farm implement dealer.

WASTE FATS—After they have served maximum cooking use. Strain into a large tin can and sell to your meat dealer after you have collected a pound or more.

TIN CANS—Wanted only in areas close to detinning plants, as announced locally.

WASTE PAPER—Needed only as announced by local committees.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

The Place of the Church in Economic Change

As debated by Stanley High, Writer, Journalist, Contributing Editor Christian Herald

MR. HIGH OPENS: King Ahab called Elijah a "troubler of Israel." Christians call him a prophet. Ahab wanted the Ahab status-quo; Elijah wanted righteousness.

Prophets are neither economists nor business men. They don't need to be. What they need to be is sensitive and courageous enough to see and preach the iniquity of enforced inequality; the evil of great wealth in the midst of great poverty; the greed of those who possess when confronted with the wretchedness and aspirations of those who are dispossessed.

When, thus, a preacher identifies himself with the other side of the tracks he attains, by Christian standards, some prophetic stature. And the Ahab, forthwith, set upon him.

Jesus declared that "the Kingdom of God is within you." But He wasn't crucified for that. He was crucified because, having rested His Kingdom on man's conscience, He then went on to lay upon that conscience such specific, down-to-earth responsibilities that the Ahab set-up was endangered and the Ahab violently alarmed.

Christianity has been vital—and is today—whenever its message has been centered, not on the bolstering of things-as-they-are, but on an activity-producing vision of things-as-they-ought-to-be.

DR. HAAKE CHALLENGES: I agree that church leaders need not pose as industrial experts. Nor do they qualify. That is why I wish they would all stick to their real jobs, as most of them do.

Our "inequalities" are not "forced" on us; but would Mr. Haake's equality be regardless of capacities? Too great wealth may be evil, but poverty is not necessarily holy. Greed is a common human trait. I would attack greed wherever it is, not encourage it among the unsuccessful by denouncing success. The modern Ahab has been supplanted by the political witch of Endor.

MR. HIGH REPLIES: Dr. Haake, at this late date, evidently clings to the belief that "inequality" is chiefly due to incapacity and only rarely a result of injustice. That has rarely been the factually unsubstantiated argument of the defenders of the status-quo ever since the Pharaohs.

It is not the denouncing of success that is at issue, but its definition. Happily, we are removing the success-idea from its monetary wrapper. Happily, also, we have begun to demand from the "successful," not only a personal but a social accounting.

So long as the Church is an earthly agency for good it will have a responsibility for furthering both of those promising developments.

Ship Losses Exceed New Construction

yesterday reported the sinking of four more vessels by Axis submarines.

These included two American merchantmen, a small British cargo carrier and a Portuguese fishing craft, shelled in the daylight despite the fact it flew flags at testing to its neutral registry and bore others painted on its sides.

The newly-announced sinkings raised to 395 the unofficial Associated Press tabulation of announced or reported western Atlantic submarine victims since Pearl Harbor.

The navy said the sinking of the Portuguese vessel in the north Atlantic June 5 was the first submarine attack in the county on a craft of that neutral country.

Staff Chief Is Appointed By President

preme general staff.

Military and naval men who declined to be quoted by name talked of the possibility that such an unprecedented command organization might include General George C. Marshall, army chief, and Admiral Ernest J. King, director of naval operations.

Whether an air officer might also be named was not known. Mr. Roosevelt gave no information as to exactly what the functions of Leahy's position would be.

Expansion of Navy Outposts Is Envisioned

(From Page One)
"No" to questions about whether he and the president discussed the possibility of a second front in Europe.

Litvinoff for many months has publicly advocated an invasion of western Europe to relieve German pressure on the Russian front, but refused to discuss it with reporters today.

It was learned that some of the naval committee members were planning an inspection trip to naval bases, with the possibility that some of them might look into developments in the Alaska area. In addition to the funds and advance base facilities, the measure up for house consideration carried $60,000,000 for fleet facilities.

TIMES TOPICS

COMPENSATION FIXED
Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburgh, ruled yesterday that $29,983 plus interest is just compensation for 16.24 acres of land in Kingsley township, Forest county. The land, condemned for government use, was owned by Frank Watson and others.

HIGHWAY PICNIC
It has been announced that the annual picnic of the state highway department in the county will be held Saturday afternoon at Wildcat Park, Ludlow. There will be games and races in the afternoon, followed by dancing. The committee will furnish coffee, cream, pop and ice cream but those attending must bring their own sugar.

PLEDGE FOR VICTORY
BUY U.S. SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Underneath the sign that says "Braves Field" at the National League ball park in Boston there should be added a line "home of extra-inning".
Marathons disguised as baseball are the specialty of the Braves just as home runs are the trademark of the New York Yankees.
For this reason that 17-inning struggle of the Braves and Chicago Cubs yesterday was bound to happen. It wasn't quite as historical as the 26-inning 1-1 tie between the Braves and Brooklyn in 1920. But it was the longest game this season and the Braves won 4-3 with a unique finish that made it entirely satisfactory to the Boston fans. The Braves tied the score in the eighth with two runs and after eight more scoreless stanzas they loaded the bases with none out in the 17th on three successive bunts. Then old John Cooney stepped to the plate and rapped a smart single to right center to finish the fracas four hours and 17 minutes after it started.
While this was going on the Brooklyn Dodgers curbed the Cincinnati Reds 8-4 with 12 hits in six innings against Paul Derringer.

The St. Louis Cardinals kept the Dodgers from increasing their National League lead, however, by bowling over the Philadelphia Phillies in a night game with Howard Krist pitching six-hit ball.
Three home runs and Buster Maynard's two-run pinch single in the eighth inning gave Carl Hubbel and the New York Giants a 6-5 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in a twilight game from which Manager Frank Frisch of the Pirates was banished in the fifth inning.
The New York Yankees extended their winning streak to ten games and Joe DiMaggio stretched his hitting streak to 18 games in an 8-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. The Boston Red Sox dropped a 10-inning 5-4 decision to Chicago to let the Yanks slip another game ahead. The St. Louis Browns were held to four hits by Luman Harris and Phil Marchiondi but beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-3, on Walt Judnick's three-run homer in the first, and the Detroit Tigers broke Buck Newson's spell with a 6-4 triumph over Washington.

FLOCK MEETS STONEHAM IN FRAY TONIGHT

Stoneham and the Eagles meet on Russell Field at 6:15 o'clock tonight for the fifth time this season in the Sunset League, and much depends on the outcome of the fracas inasmuch as the Stonehams must win in order to retain the slightest chance of ending in a tie for a series berth against the first half champions, the National Forge.

Already beaten three successive times in the second half, but having lost a close one-run decision to the Eagles, the Bennettsmen are up against it and need the triumph because a defeat would leave the Flock in a position where Stoneham would be unable to match them for the series honor.
On the other hand, the Eagles can also make the race hot and heavy for the State Hospital, also bidders for the one remaining series berth with a victory tonight, and can give the Hospital new life should they be upset by Stoneham.
Regardless of the result, the sparks will fly as the two arch-rivals in the circuit get together in a farewell party for each other.
Tomorrow night Stoneham continues against the National Forge, their last meeting of the season with the Irvine clouters, and Friday night a non-league game will round out the local program for the week when the Eagles tackle Ludlow's dangerous Wildcat nine.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press
John Cooney, Braves, singled with bases loaded in 17th inning to whip Cubs.
Howard Krist, Cardinals—Stopped Phils with six-hit hurling.
Buster Maynard, Giants—Knocked home tying and winning runs with pinch single in eighth inning against Pirates.
Johnny Allen, Dodgers—Held Reds to six hits for easy triumph.
Dario Lodigiani and Luke Appling, White Sox—Former drove in four runs, three on double with bases loaded and other on ninth-inning single to tie score against Red Sox; latter singled winning run home in tenth.
Walt Judnick, Browns—Hit three-run homer in first inning to set up victory over Athletics.
Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—Stretched hitting streak to 18 games with two-run single against Indians.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

Some day, when the modern generation of ideal baseball fans get to be grand daddies, they can tell their grandsons about this community's most noted hard-luck hurler of all-time, the one who hasn't been and probably never will be approached by another tosser in a good many years—Jim Rose. They will be able to reminisce, between shots at their brass cuspidors, the days when Rose used to take his annual crack at the National Forge, often times serving his best at the Irvine boys in as many as four or five games in a season, and yet never successful (as yet) in claiming a decision over the Morrismen. And they'll be able to state factually that right arm and has produced some fine pitching exhibitions in when they say that Rose's hard luck wasn't due to his weakness on the mound, but to the fact that he was a sportsman to the core, and that he never blamed his mates for his defeats, and could take a setback, even a string of them, patiently waiting for the day of glory when he would be winner. Rose, in the past three seasons, has lost five decisions to the Irvine club, has seen action in eight games against them, tied them once, but has never had Lady Luck on his side long enough to notch a victory. We might go on to add that his bad luck has not been solely in losing games to Irvine, but also in suffering a knee injury this year in his first test. But physical setbacks take a backseat with Rose, and we wouldn't be surprised but that he'd break a leg if only a decision over the National Forge could be his.

The community's tennis players were hit by the high waters and heavy rains in the vicinity during the past weekend when the south side court, only layout around open to the public this summer, was soaked, and completely . . . And while we happen to be speaking of the netters, with interest at a new low in this summer time recreation, we suggest a tennis association be formed for the purpose of rounding up the veterans and rookies, and creating new interest in the game itself . . . Something certainly ought to be done, and could be with a little work and co-operation . . . Bill McKeechie suspects young fellows aren't interested in baseball these days . . . The Cincinnati manager runs a baseball school there as he did in Boston . . . "Forty-eight kids showed up the other night," says McKeechie. "Two of them could hit a ball out of the infield during batting drill." . . . George Woolf retired in pain after winning with Lord Calvert in a race at Empire City recently . . . The colt stepped on Woolf's foot while the teenan was unsaddling him. The foot badly bruised, Woolf went to a hospital for x-rays . . . Eagles vs. Stoneham tonight in the Sunset League . . . A win and the Flock will be in—the series or at least a tie for a series berth . . . Come on out and see the action . . .

Tri-County League's Schedule Announced; Five Games At Forge

The Tri-County League schedule, adopted at a meeting earlier this week by the four teams entered in the newly organized semi-pro baseball circuit, was released today.
The season opened last weekend when Corry defeated Irvine by a 2-0 count in a night game at Corry and Meadville's Pioneers toppled the Keystone Ordinance Works of Geneva in a Saturday night tilt, 8-5.
A 24-game program, with two of them already past, has been prepared, each team 12 contests, with Geneva and Meadville playing six games at home and as many abroad, and the Forgers playing five at home and seven away, Corry playing seven at home and five away.
The reason for the unique set-up in number of home games is due to the fact that the Irvine baseballers wanted only Sunday dates for home contests and play away each Friday night. The league began on a Friday for the Morrismen and ends for all teams on Friday, August 28th.
Upon completion of the league schedule which will decide little less than nothing as explained to day, a Shaughnessey playoff for all members will be executed to decide the final champion.
Below is the remainder of the schedule:
Friday, July 24—Keystone Ordinance at Corry; Irvine at Meadville.
Sunday, July 26—Corry at Meadville; Keystone Ordinance at Irvine.
Friday, July 31—Meadville at Corry; Irvine at Keystone Ordinance.
Sunday, Aug. 2—Corry at Irvine; Meadville at Keystone Ordinance.
Friday, Aug. 7—Irvine at Meadville; Keystone Ordinance at Corry.
Sunday, Aug. 9—Corry at Meadville; Keystone Ordinance at Irvine.
Friday, Aug. 14—Keystone Ordinance at Corry; Irvine at Meadville.
Sunday, Aug. 16—Corry at Irvine; Meadville at Keystone Ordinance.
Friday, Aug. 21—Meadville at Corry; Irvine at Keystone Ordinance.
Sunday, Aug. 23—Corry at Keystone Ordinance; Meadville at Irvine.
Friday, Aug. 28—Irvine at Corry; Keystone Ordinance at Meadville.

STAR HURLER EXPECTED TO FACE EAGLES

When the Ludlow Wildcats appear on Russell Field to do battle with Warren's improved Eagles Friday night, local fans will have an opportunity to see one of the fastest-rising young arm pitchers to come along in quite a spell.
He's "Lefty" Kelly Anderson, who spent part of the early season with the Olean Oilers in the PONY League, but because of his age, was released by Manager Jake Pittler and told to "gain more experience on the sandlots," along with the majority of 85 other candidates in spring training for Oiler berths this year.

Sickness was a second reason for Anderson's failure to stay with Olean, but since that time he has recovered and has been the mainstay in helping Ludlow build up one of its most enviable escutcheons in recent years.
Always a tough team to wrestle with, the Ludlow nine will furnish the Eagles with every bit of opposition they're looking for come Friday night, according to pre-game reports.
The contest will get under way at 6:15 o'clock with regular league prices of admission.

Hambletonian Race In Preview Today

Old Orchard Beach, Me., July 22.—(P.)—In the national stake for three-year-old trotters, the Grand Circuit offers at the Kite Track here today an advance showing of the $40,000 Hambletonian, top event of the year in light harness racing.
Nine of the ten trotters entered in today's feature, worth $9,078, are eligible for the big stake to be raced at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 12, and include the early favorite, Colby Hanover from the Fred Egan Stable. Egan also has named Morate to go today. Pay Up, winner of last week's Matron Stake at Roosevelt Raceway, Cannon Ball, Blue Boy and Paxton Hanover are other strong contenders.
"Ambulance" comes from the French "ambulant," meaning "to walk."

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Chapter 26
Bacon's Ruse

ALLEN shrugged and looked at the plain-clothes man. "Ready?" he asked and walked over to the door where he turned. "Sorry, Dean," he said. "This may be pretty rotten for the firm but there's not much I can do about it now. . . Bye, Joyce. . . And thanks, Dee." he added not looking at her. "Don't let them bully you and don't worry."
"Worry?" Delia stood up and faced him. "Why should I worry? Do you? Have you ever?"
Joyce gasped at the outburst. Gone from the girl was the look of pain and dejection; now her eyes struck sparks and her voice was stiff with emotion.
"It's that hateful pride of yours. You don't want help from me or anyone else. No matter how intolerable the situation you'll always have that stubborn indifference to protect you. You don't want a lawyer, you can't be bothered to defend yourself. You'd rather say here than admit you're in trouble. . . All right. Stay here and rot a while. Maybe it will do you some good."

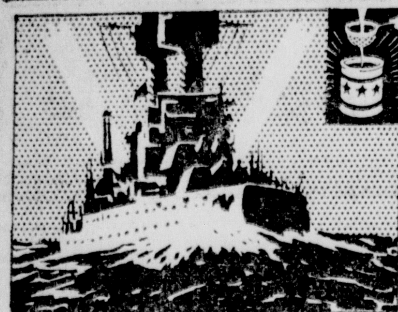

After that the silence was oppressive. Delia continued to stare at him, waiting for some answer, but none came. With the first angry flare of spirit Ward Allen had recoiled as though someone had struck him; then the look of hurt was gone, leaving his face stiff and impassive. Without a word he left the room.
Delia sagged. She tried not to, keeping her head up defiantly, but something had gone out of her.
"Why did I have to do that?" she said, hopelessly.
Bacon stood glaring at the door, his long face still flushed. Thorn-dike ran his hand over his jaw and shook his head, scowling, his eyes puzzled.
Joyce was completely miserable. She did not know what to believe. She had seen the shocking effect of O'Connor's announcement in Ward Allen's face, seen him steel himself against the questioning that followed. Either Ward had thrown the gun away or the taxi driver had been mistaken.

But it was not this alone that made her feel so faint inside. Something terrible and frightful had happened to Ward and Delia.
"Gigarette Case"
A CHAIR scraped and Thorn-dike was walking round the table.
"Now, now," he said. "He'll be all right, and so will you. We'll get a lawyer and have him out before night."
He patted Delia's shoulder, squeezing it so that she looked at him and tried to smile. Joyce stood up and Thorn-dike started for the door.
"Just a minute, Miss Stewart." Bacon was turned to the desk. "Will you take a look at this, please?"
Delia gave him a questioning glance, and stepped up beside him. Joyce could see Bacon gesturing to something flat and gleaming on the desk.
"Ever seen that before?" Delia picked up the object and Joyce saw it was a silver cigarette case. She waited while the girl turned the case over in her hand.
"I'm sorry, I haven't," she said. "I don't replace the case but extended it to Bacon so that he had to accept it. Not until then, as he took it, holding two edges between thumb and middle finger, did Joyce realize what had happened."
Fear struck at her and she went cold inside. Delia was walking towards Dean Thorn-dike. Bacon put the case on the desk, his back to the room; then Joyce knew

Then he was gone and she was walking to where Thorn-dike and Delia waited, drawing on her gloves so that they would not see the fear in her eyes. Even in the hall she kept her face averted lest it should reveal her feelings. Delia's fingertips were on that case—and very soon now those prints would be compared with those on the glass from which Delia had sipped her drink in Perry Clarke's apartment.
"Maybe He Did"
DEAN THORNDIKE handed them into his car and drove slowly down Berkeley Street, easing to a stop in front of the traffic light.
"We'll go down to the office," he said, "and I'll call Arnold Gage. He's the best lawyer in town for this sort of thing."
"I think Delia would rather go home," Joyce said.
"Yes, please," Delia said. "For a little while."
Thorn-dike started to speak, checked himself when he looked down at the girl at his side. The light changed and he shifted gears, continuing straight across. "All right, I'll drop you off. You do look done in."
She was staring straight ahead, a look of blank despondency in her eyes.
"Why did I do that?" There was a catch in her voice but she quickly controlled it. "I wanted so to let him know it didn't matter, to do something to help him. I didn't mean to be such a nasty little beast but—"
"Of course, you didn't," Joyce said.
"I couldn't stand it. He just sat there as if nothing could possibly matter to him any more, as if he didn't even want us around."
"He didn't expect us," Joyce said. "He came in prepared to put up a good front and not let the lieutenant rattle him, and he didn't dare let down."
"Yes," Delia said. "And how perfectly awful it must be for him."
"Just the same," Thorn-dike said. "He came in prepared to put up a good front and not let the lieutenant rattle him, and he didn't dare let down."
There was more silence and then Thorn-dike spoke again. "I don't like to say it, but there's one thing we ought to consider. Maybe he did kill Clarke."

AGREEMENT REACHED ON TRUCKERS WAGES

Uniontown, July 22.—(P)—Wage scales ranging from 75 to 80 cents an hour, instead of the flat 90 cents demanded by approximately 800 Fayette county coal truck drivers, have been recommended by Dr. Frank Pearson, federal arbitrator.

Pearson, announcing his recommendations last night, said both the truckers and drivers in the dispute had agreed to accept his decision when they submitted the dispute to arbitration.

However, Pearson said the recommended wage scales would not become effective until the Office of Price Administration rules on a case in which the truck owners demand an increase in fees for hauling coal to coke ovens. The new scales are slated to be retroactive to June 15.

Soviets Continue Fighting Retreat in Rostov District

(From Page One)
The Germans are pouring tanks, cannon, trench mortars and planes into the battle zones before Stalingrad and Rostov. The Russians were summoning all their strength at the front. Significantly, the Red army introduced wound stripes recently to decorate wounded soldiers who return to the front.

The Red army's courageous stand at Voronezh has now turned into daring counterattacks. These drives are helpful but not enough to offset the impending danger to Stalingrad, the Volga and Rostov.

The Russian man-in-the-street's confidence, however, was unshaken and there was not a man or woman with whom this correspondent talked who did not express confidence that Russia will survive this crisis.

Hopeful View Taken By Son of Churchill

(From Page One)
Churchill said he was on his way home to England to convalesce and hoped to get back into action soon. He joined the parachute formation several months ago, after first serving as a Commando.

Churchill said there was no American fighter plane that compared to the efficiency of the German Messerschmitt 109-F, but that American long range bombers did a better job than done by any German bomber.

ia, and will permit resumption of publication of the party's newspapers, the National Front and The New Age.

Moscow, July 22.—(P)—Soviet planes bombed Koenigsberg in East Prussia again last night, the Moscow radio said today.

Pittsburgh, July 22.—(P)—Fearing destruction of property by irate citizens who spot violations during tonight's blackout test, and to penalize the violators, air raid wardens were instructed here today to remain at the violator's home or business establishment until he is located.

Bern, Switzerland, July 22.—(P)—An announcement in Sofia, received here today, stated that Bulgaria is sending a large portion of its tobacco reserves to Sweden in exchange for iron.

London, July 22.—(P)—One thousand Hollanders have been seized as hostages in an intensified German drive against sabotage, the Netherlands news agency reported today. This information, Goering's newspaper, the Essener National Zeitung.

Washington, July 22.—(P)—The senate defense investigating committee announced today it would inquire into the cancellation of the Higgins shipbuilding contract, and a scheme to construct giant air freighters in lieu of ships and the crucial problem of steel for either project.

New York, July 22.—(P)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers today called upon its 8,000 members to help the War Production Board's search for "every ounce" of scrap iron and steel.

operation are expected to have provided shelter rooms where normal activities can be carried on with no light visible outside. Industrial plants which do not come under supervision of the army and navy will be subject to blackout regulations promulgated by the state council. In previous tests, many defense plants cooperated by blacking out without production stoppages.

Dr. Marts said he expected "an even more perfect score" in tonight's blackout than in the June dusk-to-dawn dimouts when officials "estimated at least 90 percent of the people were prepared and participated fully."

Kerosene was the major production of petroleum refineries in the United States at the beginning of the century and gasoline was frequently discarded as a waste product.

Slump Shown In Operations In Oil Fields

Tulsa, Okla., July 22.—(P)—United States oil field operations have slumped sharply this year because of wartime transportation difficulties and the shortages of drilling materials.

Drilling activity this month may show a decline of more than 50 per cent since July last year, the Oil and Gas Journal will say in tomorrow's edition.

Three areas showed signs of increasing activity—California, where more heavy oil is needed; Illinois, where production has been dropping slowly but steadily, and west Texas, where additional oil is not required.

In view of the trends of production now apparent, the Journal suggests that the industry faces two major problems in connection with getting the oil to market.

The first is to get oil from the east central states to the Atlantic seaboard and the other is to insure a supply to the western end of the system.

In the field, the Journal reported 205 completions in the week ended July 18, compared with 240 in the preceding week and 687 in the corresponding week last year.

Agitation Grows For Second Front

London, July 22.—(P)—Appeals for a British and American invasion of Europe to establish a second front this year mounted today while the Russians reeled back under the blows of German armored forces.

The Electrical Trades Union unanimously adopted a resolution similar to the one in which the Mine Workers Federation yesterday urged the government to open a second front. The Communist party in London called a mass meeting for tonight and planned a mass demonstration in Trafalgar Square Sunday to voice its demands for invasion.

The carriers, ending their convention yesterday, elected M. F. Gallagher of Prospect, president. Mrs. Donald E. Hull of Moversville, was chosen president of the women's auxiliary.

PAY INCREASES ARE FAVORED BY CARRIERS

Altoona, July 22.—(P)—Resolutions endorsing war-time pay increases for postal employees and favoring legislation for retirement after 30 years' service, regardless of age, were passed at the final session of the 40th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Rural Letter Carriers Association.

The carriers, ending their convention yesterday, elected M. F. Gallagher of Prospect, president. Mrs. Donald E. Hull of Moversville, was chosen president of the women's auxiliary.

TIMES TOPICS

AIRPORT RESUMES

Activities at the Warren airport were resumed this morning after being idle two days because of water on the field resulting from the flash flood that visited the section Saturday and Sunday. All runways were cleared of water during the night.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Mrs. Kate Lord, of 464 Prospect street, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident near the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Water street on May 31, was discharged from the Warren General Hospital yesterday. She is reported to be getting along satisfactorily.

NEED DRIVERS

It was announced today that additional volunteers are needed for the drivers' corps of the Warren County Defense Council. Both men and women are needed. It was stated, those interested may obtain additional information from L. E. Seavy at the office of the Warren County Motor Club.

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE

It was announced at the Pennsylvania railroad depot today that Train 8970 will arrive in Warren at 10:16 a. m., instead of 1:21 p. m., beginning Thursday. The revised schedule was decided upon in view of the fact that trains 580 and 581 are being routed via Oil City and Pittsburgh, which permits of better connections for the Erie-Kane passenger. Mail for the train should be in the post office at least a half hour before leaving time.

TO AID RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schoonover, of Sugar Grove, passed through Warren early this morning enroute to Port Allegany, to aid a sister of the latter, Mrs. Harry Hedges and her husband, whose home in Maple street, that town, was washed out of its foundation in the flood of last Saturday. Mr. Hedges, an invalid for the past fifteen years, according to reports, was saved from drowning when his wife succeeded in moving him from a bedroom on the first floor of the home, to an upstairs room. Mr. Schoonover expected to secure a permit at Smethport which would permit him to continue on into Port Allegany on his relief mission.

BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Private First Class Paul R. Burke, who is stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., is spending a 10-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burke, 5 Cottage Place, North Warren.

Help Sought By Towns in Flood Areas

Railroads rallied to the task of replacing twisted tracks and repairing washed out roadbeds and bridges by summoning hundreds of extra laborers. Meanwhile, transportation of vital war materials moved smoothly over alternate routes.

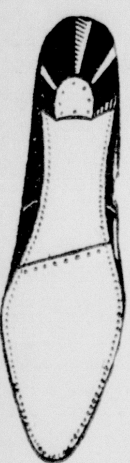

The Ridgway substitution of the Pennsylvania motor police reported highways between Ridgway, Emporium, Smethport, Port Allegany and Coudersport were again open.

Work of the Red Cross and volunteers continued on a 24-hour basis and officials didn't have to worry about tonight's blackout. Officials at Harrisburg would be imposed on McKean, Potter, Cameron and Elk counties.

Sanitation officers continued to cope with danger of an outbreak of contagious diseases. At Port Allegany more than 2,300 typhoid inoculations were given and 22 tons of lime spread on debris-littered streets.

Warren Farm Committee To Make Checkup

Members of the county agricultural conservation committee have the responsibility of inspecting and spot-checking the performance work on Warren county farms in the AAA program, according to Chairman W. L. Armitage.

Other members of this committee are A. H. Bradley and Carl G. Peterson.

To make sure that the work in each county is of acceptable quality, at least three men from the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Conservation Office will spot-check the work of those who do the farm checking in the county.

The 1943 AAA program will begin September 1, 1942.

All farmers who have not yet applied lime or fertilizer obtained through the conservation association are advised to apply such materials before September 1st. Any such material not applied on August 21st will place the recipient on the register of indebtedness and prevent the ordering of more material for 1943 until the indebtedness is paid.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It's strange how many parts there are in Hollywood today for a man with a beard.

Strange when a few years ago they said it couldn't be done—not with a beard. Of course, even now the man with the beard has to be Monty Woolley. For after "The Pied Piper" (a movie as full of heart as "Mrs. Miniver" and with more suspense) Monty is going to be welcome, complete with beard, in any studio. He draws Ida Lupino for co-star in "Light of Heart," and after that, well, they'll be writing beards into their pictures instead of asking Monty to shave.

There's one spot at the "U" you could spot as having an "escape" picture even if you didn't know the title was "Arabian Nights." There's nothing quite so escapist (that's a new word for it) as six beautiful maids in gauzy veils, sheer pantaloons, and glittering jewels—all passed by the Hays office. The maids are billed as the "six virgins" in publicity though not in the script. They appear in the film's prologue and epilogue, taking their reading lesson from beturbaned, over-stuffed Robert Grieg. The books they are reading are "Arabian Nights," but what they read will be a rip-roaring action meller for Sabu, John Hall, Maria Cortez, without a mention of current troubles.

PAINED query after seeing the not-so-"Magnificent Ambersons": Did Orson Wells make this—and "Citizen Kane"? . . . Sol Wurtzel called for new titles for "Manila Calling." Among the suggestions: "Calling Manila."

Director Michael Curtiz, celebrating with "Casablanca" his 15th year in Hollywood, made his first movie here after a jail term—self-imposed. Coming from Europe, speaking even less English than his present picturesque language, he was assigned to direct a typically American gang film, "The Third Degree." Mike took his troubles to the sheriff who obligingly let him spend a while in a cell near the real jailbirds, absorbing their lingo. . . . After which, Mike went on the set and taught the dialogue-writers a few new words.

"CASABLANCA" has the most accented set in town. There's imitable Mike's—Hungarian. There's Ingrid Bergman's—Swedish. There's Paul Henreid's—Austrian. S. Z. Sakall's—German. Madeleine LeBeau's—French. And Robert Aisher—very French. Aisher is technical adviser. To look at him, mild, polite, quiet, you would not suspect that his recent life would make a first-class movie story. He once was a French producer and director in Paris. In June, 1940, he was in the Maginot Line—in a fort that fought on after the armistice. He was taken to a German prison camp near Czecho-Slovakia. He escaped, made his way in constant peril back to Paris, to Vichy where he was decorated, then to the Free French army.
